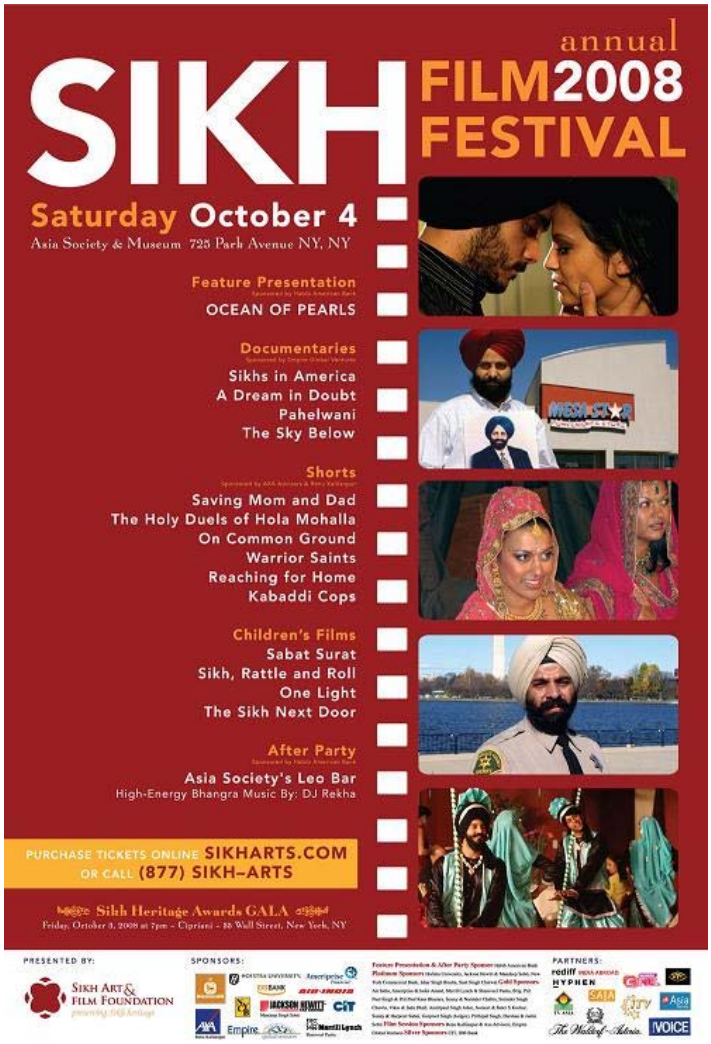
HYPHEN

October 3, 2008
Sikh International Film Festival - Oct 4th, NYC

You saw it in our calendar, you read about it in our email blast and now it's just a day away!

The Sikh International Film Festival will feature Ocean of Pearls, a story directed by Sarab S. Neelam about a young Sikh doctor struggling with the inequalities of the American Health System and ultimately his own identity. The festival will also include four documentaries and 10 short/children's films, with an after party at Asia Society's Leo Bar where you could mingle with all the festival guests.



This is an all-day festival and will be held on Saturday, October 4th at the Asia Society & Museum in New York. For tickets and information, please visit the Sikh Art & Film Foundation website.

Posted by pai at October 3, 2008 9:42 AM